however, by carrying that child to term, such as an anencephalic infant, the mother will gain protection against breast cancer.